Bah, looks like Twitter finally closed that "loophole" where you could access #LegacyTwitter via the http:// twitter.com/download_ link ... And since I ain't downloading no darn add-ons to "fix" this problem, I guess my Twitter usage is going to take a steep nosedive :(

Tried out "Red Dead Online" for PS4 ... Probably shouldn't have gone chasing after that Golden Armor right off the bat, especially against players at Level 105 'n such (also, couldn't name the horse "Prickly Pete" because of "profanity", so went with "Snoopy" instead!) #Breakout

Just watched the series finale of #TheGoodCop ... Aw, had to end it on a cliffhanger (and not for nothing, but my biggest takeaway from this episode was that they spent zero dollars of their budget on making those falling bricks not look so damn fake!) #WhoCutMrsAckroydInHalf

Today in Comics History: In "Peanuts" on July 21, 1969, Charles Schulz (a huge @NASA fan) embedded a slyly brilliant tribute to the #Apollo11 mission: a dot on the moon in the first panel. The strip coincided with the date, 50 years ago, that man walked on the moon. #Apollo50pic.twitter.com/OHZGP7j45Y

There's a whole mini-genre of licensed games at that time that were better than they had to be. That version of Ataxx starring the 7Up Spot and the McDonalds NES game are two others in that category.

Started "The Shroud of the Thwacker" by Chris Elliott ... Just one chapter in, yet his delightfully twisted brand of humor is already coming through loud & clear (I'm imagining the words being transcribed by his character from "Get a Life", and it fits perfectly!) #SharkAttack

Looking for something “cool” to do today? Head to @ClarkUniversity to learn about Robert Goddard, “The Father of Modern Rocketry.” Our Goddard exhibit, on the 2nd floor of the library, 950 Main St, is open from 12- 5 pm. Looking back, landing on the moon wasn't just our job, it was a historic opportunity to prove to the world America's can-do spirit. I'm proud to serve the country that gave me this historic opportunity. Today belongs to you. We must hold the memory of #Apollo11 close. #Apollo50th🔭

Huh ... So apparently, if you go to http://twitter.com/download and click "Profile", it'll bring #LegacyTwitter back!

Unfortunately, it's only temporary ... If you hit "Reload", then it returns to the new formatting 🤨

So, I'd bet this "fix" ain't gonna be around for too long ...

Just watched "SpongeBob's Big Birthday Blowout" ... Those Trusty Slab segments looked like they were running at 1.5x speed, very unnerving (and why didn't the "real-world" fish turn into cartoon fish when they hit the water?) #BeachGiraffesPieDragonsAndBeans

I remember when wrestling PPVs seemed like the coolest things in the world, to the point where we'd try to watch the scrambled feeds just to catch a fleeting glimpse of our favorite performers ... Yet now, we're starting #ExtremeRules late, & wondering if we should even bother ☹️

Replying to @BoondyAlBoondy @TheMattFowler

Then we have different promotions existing within their own separate realities (WCW is Earth-2, ECW is Earth-3, etc) ... and that would make the Invasion angle into pro wrestling's version of a "Crisis on Infinite Earths"-style crossover 😄

As a (useless) thought experiment, how exactly would the "professional wrestling" multiverse work?

If we accept that they're all characters in a fictional reality where the matches aren't predetermined, then WWE is its own timeline (the "Earth-1" to our own "Earth-Prime"?) with Kane/Yankem as separate people

"We do not promise you a perfect ballpark, or a perfect overall project, or another eighth wonder of the word," Larry Lucchino said. "What we do promise is a nice little ballpark, which we hope will be iconic, which will make you proud."http://www. masslive.com/worcesterredso x/2019/07/a-nice-little-ballpark-worcester-red-sox- city-break-ground-on-polar-park-two-years-ahead-of-baseball-in-the- canal-district.html …

Good news: Doctor couldn't find anything serious causing my lower back pain, suggested stretching

Better news: He said I was "very limber" for my age

Best news: Blood pressure was 121/78 (those relaxation techniques I learned watching @TheCWSupergirl are really paying off!)

Of course, could've been a little easier to assemble if more care was taken by whoever wrote the instructions ... Like, there were two sets of screws included, and we ended up putting what was CLEARLY the "small screws" in the wrong place (still came out okay)!pic.twitter.com/ls1C2U7Bpf

Just watched "Cold Pursuit" (2019) via Netflix ... Not quite the gritty "Mr. Plow" reboot I was hoping for, but still a weird/entertaining entry into the "Liam Neeson seeks revenge" genre (also wasn't expecting to see him kill one of The Rowdy 3!) #AlwaysLoadBodiesHeadOut

Shout out to covered wagons. They used to not have covers. Wish I was there the first time someone showed up with a cover. "Jebediah what's that on your wagon?" -- "It's a cover, yo'. Have fun in your rainy ass uncovered wagon." Then Jebediah just rode away all sassy and whatnot.

Our DVR stopped recording that episode after just 15 minutes ... Luckily, we set it for the backup in standard definition

Just watched the series finale of @OutcastCinemax ... Too bad they had to end with so many unresolved plot points, it was a very interesting concept (at least from the parts we could see that weren't pixelated all to hell by the crappy cable signal!) #ToTheSea

Just watched "Godzilla: King of the Monsters" ... Story was a bit goofy (did Emma really spend time making that "slideshow presentation" revealing her plans to Monarch?), but it did provide us with that sweet sweet monster-on-monster action! #TitanusGojira #Bunker09

"This is stupid!" chant by the crowd ... I'd say pairing up 2 wrestlers that WWE fans think are unworthy of main-event spots is a secretly brilliant move to create a heel faction w/ nuclear heat, but then they followed it up with "AEW!" & "CM Punk!" chants 🤦‍♂️ #WWEStompingGrounds

There was one very nice seller in particular with a great attitude ... Replying to @JimPolito

I'd LIKE to believe it, but (if the 2016 election taught us anything) national polls have always been utterly meaningless ... They're like Nielsen ratings, a couple people watch the newest Tim Allen sitcom & TV execs "round up" that number to five million viewers or so

Why the hell were the King's horses tryin' to put Humpty Dumpty together again? You know what kind of detail work that required? They got those 2,000lb bastards out there with hooves and whatnot. And if that ain't bad enough the glue was made of their friends! That's bullshit!

Organizing the semantic web ... Rigid ontologies ("that require a system's users to be deeply expert in the structures they're working with") versus folksonomies ("which leads to fragmentation, like #sign or #signs; or #photos, #pix, & #pictures, etc.")

June 11th is the 85 anniversary of the premiere of Mandrake the Magician in a newspaper strip created by Lee Falk. The character would go on to appear in a radio show, a movie serial, big little books, comic books, a cartoon, and more.pic.twitter.com/HgFzIX2e77

Just watched the season premiere of "The $100,000 Pyramid" ... They still have the most anticlimactic tiebreaker system in game show history (but seeing the hilarious @Lesdoggg more than makes up for it!) #ShrekYouYouShrekingShrek #MeatWithoutFeet

Don't wanna get my hopes up, but looks like @BBCAMERICA is indeed replaying their entire run of @DirkGentlyBBCA episodes ... so might as well start with the series premiere & watch all the way through, so I can actually remember what the heck was going on! #Horizons

Tonight's question:

What's the earliest video game you remember playing?

My first console was the Gameboy Colour, and I believe I had Sabrina the Animated Series and Rugrats games first.

Alessandro Retweeted Ducktor Naldush

Saw that #DonaldDuckDay was trending ... which made me realize that I totally missed yesterday's milestone event in the character's Italian publishing history!http:// twitter.com/FrancescoDonal d/status/1137349588585 721856 …

Alessandro added,

Ducktor Naldush @FrancescoDonald
50 years ago, the Duck Avenger Paperinik first appeared on the pages of Topolino.

With the current restrictions faced by the Italian comics, he would be an impossible character to create.

But hey, be glad because it happened and all that stuff.

Happy Birthday, Paperinik. pic.twitter.com/U3VuYfl46V

Not all games are released, and not all unreleased games are memorable. This is DTMC's Rocky Mountain Sports for the SNES, a title that was advertised briefly and is barely known today. No known copies exist, but Game Informer kept the original art slides, which we scanned.pic.twitter.com/LYyuVjPTAy

Just watched the season premiere of "Nailed It!" ... Loved @feliciaday as guest co-host, but (if the business relationship hadn't soured) I feel like the guy who played Daredevil would have been the proper cross-promotional choice for the job ;) #TheMarvelEpisode they get longer then shorter again, we're settling on a cosy 30 minutes... Obviously we record 7-9 hours of the show daily, there's so much Shark-Man content to get through. Thanks for the listen!

Hot take: Colleges should stop offering business degrees and instead require every student to take a course in ethics, course in statistics, and a course in critical thinking. Students are better served with Liberal Arts degrees.

After a few days to process things, I will say this about #Endgame✍ (spoilers ahead) ...

I wish that instead of the term "time travel", they stuck w/ "multiverse", & that would have cleaned up all the inconsistencies (except Cap's ending, which still wouldn't work, but oh well!)

Also, one question ... Are they saying that the Garden of Eden was/is in the United States, or that Lilith wandered all the way to Greendale before encountering the Dark Lord?

Because that is one long-ass walk from Mesopotamia! 🏠👹🏜

Just watched the series finale of #Gotham ... I enjoyed it, except for two things:

1) It's a shame Camren was denied her swan song

2) Did they really lift the Joker's ultimate scheme from the plot of "Dumb and Dumber To"?

Just watched the season finale of #TheOrville ... Kind of a weird coincidence that we watched this AFTER #Endgame, and that's all I'll say about it (other than the fact that I really hope @SethMacFarlane gets that Season 3 renewal!) #TheRoadNotTaken

Just watched "Glass" via Netflix ... Didn't deliver quite the "superhero" experience that we got from #EndGame, but still entertaining (if a little clunky) #TheTipToeMan

And for no particular reason, let me just take this opportunity to remind everyone that a @FamilyFeud contestant once thought that Peter Pan counted as a "superhero" ... Now THAT would be the greatest Marvel/Disney crossover event in history! #EndGame http://youtu.be/K0dbTGbqZ00

Just watched "Avengers: Endgame" ... No spoilers, but that was a fantastic way to turn this movie into a recap of the entire Marvel Cinematic Universe (plus I enjoyed what I will assume was a stealth "Secret Wars" reference)! #SomebodyPeedMyPants

Replying to @howtophil

A weird question, but what I liked most about #LegacyTwitter is that you could select "View Page Source" and copy the underlying HTML to a text file ... Is there a way to do this in the new UI (all I can find is a jumble of impenetrable script elements)?

It is with great sadness we have learned that Celtics Legend and Hall of Famer John Havlicek has passed away peacefully today at the age of 79. He will be dearly missed by his Celtics family.

Thought Twitter finally forced their new desktop layout on me, which doesn't allow one to navigate the underlying HTML via "View Page Source" (I'm weird, sue me) ... No "Switch to Legacy Twitter" under options, but a quick search revealed http:// twitter.com/i/optout to be the answer!

@JimPolito We don't need people in jail voting in elections, we need prison reform so that there are actually less people in jail to begin with ... That way, murderers & rapists continue to forfeit their right to vote (as part of their punishment)

First, Hall & Nash dress as doctors ...

Then, Mysterio forces himself into a match rather than taking the night off to heal ...

Lastly, a vignette about Roman's health scare ...

Not to be insensitive, but is this all one big "rib" against @iamjohnoliver?

Ha ha ha, after all that ... He sacrificed himself (for no good reason) and ended up losing!

P.S. Sure, there was padding ... but it's still falling from a friggin' crazy height without being able to really see where you're going to land, craziness!

Just watched "The Great Wall" via Netflix ... Pretty costumes, but rather mediocre CGI (and Damon wasn't bad, but I could've easily watched a version of this movie where Jing Tian was the main character!) #TaoTei

This should really be called an incomplete oral history of webcomics, since there are more stories than I could ever tell in 3,000 words — if I missed your fave, it's only because you have better taste than I do.http://www.theverge.com/2019/4/5/18295 369/webcomics-xkcd-questionable-content-dinosaur-comics-90s-internet-social-media …

One added point ... As physical media is being phased out (books, DVDs, etc), collecting things that can't be replicated electronically provides job security for your library!

(hey, not everyone can afford a 3D printer to build their own fishing pole, better to just borrow one from the library!) #netsl19

Use 655 instead of 650 field, because you're cataloging the ACTUAL thing (not a work about the thing) ... i.e. it's not a book ABOUT boardgames, it IS a boardgame #netsl19

In terms of cataloging/classification, you're probably not going to find a lot of your library's "things" in OCLC ... Create local or brief records, possibly listing your library in the 110 field as the "author" #netsl19

Their most popular item is the karaoke machine ... Instead of putting everything together, they break it up into two "kits" (one contains the machine, the other contains CDs/playlists, both can be checked out separately without fuss!) #netsl19

You are in charge of Nintendo (or Microsoft or Sony).

You decide to remaster three old games that have never been remastered before, updating them where necessary.

Their original publisher doesn't matter, nor do licensing issues (assume you have an infinite budget).

Name them.

This logic puzzle game has one of the best intro sequences in the history of jam games. It also includes some valid critique about movies with Tom Hanks (and some not so valid).

Just watched the series premiere of "Jesus: His Life" ... I was actually expecting a straight-up serialized drama, not the ol' "talking-head" format with the religious experts and whatnot (was a bit skeptical at first, but it did help put the actual history into context) #Joseph

Just watched the season finale of #ProjectBlueBook ... Enjoyed it, yet can't help feeling guilty when I think that the names of actual living people are being used in an obviously-bullshit story (kinda like "Abraham Lincoln Vampire Hunter", feels icky!) #TheWashingtonMerryGoRound

See, this is just embarrassing. It underscores my utter rage at the meaninglessness of that godawful term “graphic novel,” and likewise indicates just how clueless mainstream publishing is about the medium of comics.

Grrrrrrrr.http:// twitter.com/tomkingtk/stat us/1103404222656 245778 …

Was recently told that a major publication wouldn't review or cover Mister Miracle because, they said, "it's not a graphic novel; it's just a collection of comics." Smh.

Just watched the series premiere of "Alien News Desk" ... Some good quips, but this feels like it should've been an interstitial during commercial breaks on Adult Swim (not really sure how they're gonna fill a whole half-hour week in & week out) #UngratefulWadsOfProtein

I knew I would jinx it, the "Bitlocker Recovery" screen returned this morning ... Ah well, if I just have to do the "suspend and shut down" trick every now and then to keep it at bay, that shouldn't be so bad (just annoying!)

I believe the trick was to select "Suspend" & then completely shut down the machine, rather than simply restarting ... Now if I could JUST figure out how to get folder sizes to appear in the status bar again (a la Windows 95), everything would be golden!

I have discovered a planet. It anxiously forgets. It rethinks. It is quite far away. In the future, gorillas could find a friend there.

the two sectors of the tech industry are computers and power cords. every few years the market swings between a surplus of cords and a deficit. too few cords, we can't power our computers. too many cords incentivizes them to make too few cords. this principle governs everything #protip the instant an idea strikes, WRITE IT DOWN. Even if it's just a concept, a phrase, a riff, a character idea, WRITE IT DOWN. Don't assume it will just bubble back up into your consciousness.

Football history:

*Bill Belichick now ties George Halas and Curly Lambeau for most NFL championships by a head coach.

*Patriots now tie Steelers for the most Super Bowl titles.

I appreciate the generous use of crossovers in the ads we've seen thus far (Bud Light/Game of Thrones, Lassie/Looney Tunes/Free Willy, Sex and the City/Big Lebowski) ... but other than that, it's been a pretty lackluster showing #SuperBowl

No for real though this guy is the only reason video games were ever profitable, because no one was going to pay $200 for a console that played the one built-in game programmed into it. Interchangeable cartridges that could be sold separately created the entire business.http:// twitter.com/mr_jrlawson/status/1089562432215 924736 …

Problem (kind of) solved! Tried a different browser, and the correct number comes up ... Just not sure where Firefox pulled this cached version of the page from, I can almost guarantee we passed the 1599 mark ages ago!

After watching that makeshift tag-team match and the #USTitle match during the preshow, I'm going to make the following prediction ... Having the wrestlers emerge from the bullpen is REALLY going to take the steam out of those surprise #RoyalRumble entrances!

Just watched the series finale of @TimelessSPTV via NBC On Demand ... Hey, nobody told us this aired back in December, we could have totally missed it (which would've been a darn shame because that was a lotta fun!)

Replying to @BoondyAlBoondy

Establishing precise release dates for comic books is challenging because of cover-dating that has little relationship to the actual calendar date, the date a comic book ships from the printer vs its on-sale date, etc. That's why I rarely if ever feature comic books in this feed.

@Hoganmag I read somewhere that the first issue of Marvel's Secret Wars was released 35 years ago today, but I see that the cover reads "May 1984" ... Could you confirm which date is correct, please?

Adding the 1700th (!) title to our graphic novel collection, and it's a doozy ... Maybe not the most ambitious crossover in history, but still a good one!

Too bad we don't live in some alternate dimension where John Wick ran against Fat Albert for President ... then I might have actually voted!

Will wrestlers still be treated as "independent contractors", or designated as full-time employees (i.e. health benefits)? And if a TV deal does materialize, will they be allowed to join the Screen Actors Guild? These are actual changes AEW can implement to shake up the industry

One person comes up with a list of ten video game titles (some real, some they made up), and the other players have to guess which are real (i.e. "you can play it") and which are fake ... It works best if the people guessing are non-gamers, so you'd be perfect! 😉

We're going to be doing this for a LONG TIME, but we're in the process of releasing all those newly public-domain books on the archive. Here's 248 publications we just loosed. http:// archive.org/search.php?query=collection%3Ainternetarchivebooks+ date%3A1923 … - I'll keep adding to this thread for a while.

Replying to @BoondyAlBoondy

Mixer has always been completely separate in that we love seeing people stream from anywhere streaming is possible! Whether you want to stream from your Switch, your PS4, your Xbox, a phone or a toaster - we'd love to see it.

Despite the @WWENetwork crapping out in the middle of the #WWEChampionship match, we still saw Bryan & Styles put on a helluva performance (but screw Otunga saying Daniel "didn't drink" as an insult, like he's ECW general manager Tiffany making fun of CM Punk) #WWETLC

One other thing ... We moved the old TV upstairs, but when we turned it on, noticed an odd smell 😰

Luckily, a little research showed that the likely culprit was simply burning dust bunnies (which sounds worse than it actually is):http://itstillworks.com/12613629/can-a -tv-give-off-toxic-fumes …

Anyway, I know this is a problem of the "first world" variety, & there are people suffering through FAR worse this holiday season, but I just needed to vent ... and what is Twitter if not a place for awful people to vent about awful things? 😉

The salesman, the installers, the movers sent from the warehouse ... All polite and professional, no problems whatsoever!

It was the corporate overlords who waited until the agreed-upon day of delivery to tell us it had been delayed (by email, no less) ...

Day 2 of enjoying our brand new 4K TV ... Of course, we could have been enjoying our new television LAST weekend, but "Big Box" (same initials, you know who I'm talking about!) screwed up the delivery time because they seem to have a coordination problem at the corporate level 😒

Why are people assuming that #Supergirl has a secret identity? She doesn't wear a mask, she can just say she's in costume 24/7, avoid all this "Sokovia Accords"-type nonsense!

Let's put Gordon Hayward's 30/9/8 in 30 minutes into perspective. He is:

🧿 the first Celtics player ever to get that off the bench,
🧿 the first NBA player since 1993 to get that off the bench,
🧿 only the third player in NBA history to get that in 30 minutes of less.

Here's a wonderful little historical document: Tom Hall's original DOOM Bible, which was a writing down of all the DOOM-related ideas, some of which never made it into the final work. But you can see the thinking, reading it in-browser. http:// archive.org/details/TheDoo mBible …pic.twitter.com/Lg8Fc4yzRM

We don't know much about Red Dead Redemption 2's Online Multiplayer, but we have a few thoughts on what we'd like to see when it does drop.

What do you hope to get out of the experience when it finally arrives?

My fear was that we'd be out celebrating Thanksgiving, on the coldest day of the year (thus far), then come home & find the place freezing because the boiler conked out ... Thankfully, that didn't happen, it just waited for this morning to stop working (oh well!)

Debating for months whether to switch to the Pixel or stick with Samsung & upgrade to the S9 ... but this deal proved too good to pass up: http://www.theverge.com/good-deals/201 8/11/21/18107357/google-pixel-3-xl-black-friday-verizon- best-buy-sale-deal …

(it was kinda weird that Best Buy forced us to make 2 separate purchases, when "Add Another Device" was an option)

Agli occhi di Dio la vita umana è preziosa, sacra ed inviolabile. Nessuno può disprezzare la vita altrui o la propria.
